Order Picker License Tempe

Order Picker License Tempe - Order preparation operation or also called order picking as it is more normally known is a process used in warehouse operations and consists of personnel referred to as order pickers. The order picker's job is to collect and take articles in certain quantities to complete the customer's orders before shipment. Order picking is a basic warehousing method. The effectiveness in which this particular task is completed could be directly related to a supply chain's productivity. Therefore, order picking is amongst the most controlled logistic processes. Order picking falls within the category of the warehouse management system.

There are several particular kinds of order picking. The main kinds include: wave picking method, pick to box method, picker to part method or piece picking, zone picking method and sorting systems method.

The pick to box method consists of the order picker only filling the boxes with item that are from their specific station. The box then moves on to other stations to until the order is done. In this particular method, there is no movement of the order picker employees. In the wave picking method, the order pickers move around to be able to gather the needed things for some orders. The picker to part method or piece picking is similar where the order pickers or picker move to be able to collect the items required but for one order only.

In the sorting systems method, there is no movement of the order picking workers. Instead, the products are delivered to him or her via an automated system like for instance a conveyor system or an automatic storage. In the zone picking method, every order picker is assigned to one specific zone. They are responsible for only realizing order picking in this specified zone.
